Safety on the Severn

Check the tide times and weather forecast before you visit the coast.

- Keep safe on the foreshore, taking care of slippery rocks and the mudflats. There is a real risk of getting stuck or losing your footing!
- The Severn has one of the highest tidal ranges in the world - remember how quickly the tide moves and changes - up to 1 metre in little more than 20 minutes on some tides.
- Wear suitable clothing and footwear, it can be muddy.
- Remember to check Public Rights of Way before setting off.
- For more information on safety on the Severn, take a look at our Good Practice Guidelines, www.asera.org.uk/good-practice-guidelines.

Always bring a charged mobile phone and let friends or family know where you are and when you are likely to return home.

The estuary is a home for wildlife - take care not to disturb feeding, breeding and resting birds.

Stay on the footpaths where possible - help to protect the mudflats and saltmarsh that support wildlife.

Help to keep the coast enjoyable for all and take all litter home with you.

Diogelwch Afon Hafren

Gwiriwch amseroedd y llanw a'r rhagolygon tywydd cyn ymweld â'r arfordir.

- Cadwch yn ddiogel ar flaen y traeth, byddwch yn ofalus o greigiau llithrig a'r fflatiau llaid - mae'r perygl o fynd yn soudn yn un go iawn.
- Mae gan yr Hafren un o amrediadau llanw mwyâr byd - cofiwch pa mor gyflym mae'r llanw'n symud a newid - hyd at 1m mewn ychydig dros 20 munud ar adegau.
- Gwisgwch ddilad ac esgidiau addas oherwydd y gall fod yn fwldyd.
- Cofiwch wirio Hawliau Tramwy Cyhoeddus cyn mentro allan.
- I gael rhagor o wybodaeth am ddiogelwch Afon Hafren, edrychwrch ar ein Canllawiau Arferion Gorau www.asera.org.uk/good-practice-guidelines.

Cofiwch ddod â ffôn symudol wedi'i wefru'n llawn a gadael i ffrindiau neu deulu wybod ble rydych chi a phryd rydych yn debygol o ddychwelyd adref.

Mae'r aber yn gartref i fywyd gwylt - gofalu rhag i chi beidio â tharfu ar gyfnodau bwydo, bridio a gorffwys adar.

Arhoswch ar y llwybrau lle bo'n bosibl - helpwch i ddiogelu'r fflatiau llaid a'r morfa heli sy'n cefnogi bywyd gwylt.

Helpwch i gadw'r arfordir yn hyfryd i bawb ac ewch â sbwriel adref gyda chi.

Walk One

Pill Short Circular Walk

This short circular walk begins at Pill Millennium Centre (also known as Pill Mill), heading towards the River Usk – you will see the Newport Transporter Bridge to your right as you turn onto the main road. This is one of only six Transporter Bridges left in the world and is well worth a visit! You will join the Wales Coast Path just after the Transporter Bridge. Look out for the 'With Passing Ships' statue on the banks of the Usk! You will then join up with the Usk Valley walk taking in views along the river, before heading back to Pill Millennium Centre where you can enjoy Pill Mill Park. The terrain is mainly flat and well-marked but be aware of the busy road that the route crosses.

Walk Two

Newport Wetlands Circular Walk

This is a circular route that takes you right onto the coastline of the Severn Estuary along the Wales Coast Path and is situated in the RSPB Newport Wetlands Reserve (www.rspb.org.uk). There are no entrance charges to the site. However, if you decide to drive, there is a payable carpark for non-RSPB members.

Depending on what season you choose to visit, you will see a variety of birds and other wildlife at this Site of Special Scientific Interest. Follow the path from the visitor centre into the Newport Wetlands site and make your way around to the Severn Estuary coastline – have a look out for wading birds in the mud of the estuary! The visitor centre has lots of activities and events on and the staff are always happy to help. Look out for the East Usk Lighthouse on your way round (seen in grey on the map opposite). There is a West Usk Lighthouse on the other side of the mouth of the river Usk!

	RSPB Newport Wetland Visitor Centre		Paved and soft ground. This route has a high chance of being wet and muddy.
	3 miles/4.5km		Leisurely
	Multiple benches and viewpoints of the estuary on this route.		There is one dog walking route on the perimeter of the reserve marked by pawprint signs. You can get a map from the visitor centre, where there are tethering rings and a drinking bowl at the entrance. To avoid disturbing wildlife, all dogs must be kept on leads and stay on the paths.

Walk Three

The Gwent Levels Walk

This long-distance linear walk can start or end at the Newport Transporter Bridge Visitor Centre or The Lighthouse Inn. The route forms part of the Wales Coast Path and takes in beautiful views across the Gwent Levels and the Severn Estuary. You'll pass the iconic Grade II-listed West Usk Lighthouse which is currently operating as a hotel. Visit the Newport Transporter Bridge Visitor Centre to find out more about this Grade I listed structure and take a trip to the top for spectacular views of the Severn Estuary and Newport!

PLEASE NOTE: this is a long-distance linear walk which will take a few hours to complete. You can either walk out to the Lighthouse Inn and back or you could shorten it by parking two cars: one at the beginning of the route and one at the end. There is a payable car park at The Lighthouse Inn.

Walk Four

Grangetown Circular Walk

This circular walk begins at The Hub in Grangetown and follows the Taff Trail and Cardiff Bay Trail, along the River Taff. There are plenty of parks and gardens along the way. You will encounter stunning views across Cardiff Bay, before returning back along a short section of the Ely River past Cardiff Marina and Cardiff International White Water Centre. You could take a short detour into Grangemoor Park on your way back. This park used to be a landfill site but has been regenerated into a park! There are 360 degree views from the top of the hill and there is lots to see!

The Bay itself used to be very different. Cardiff Bay used to be called Tiger Bay, where ships would export Welsh coal across the world. It used to be an area of open estuary washed by tides twice a day, but was transformed into a freshwater lake, after the barrage was built in 1999. For more information go to: www.tigerbay.org.uk.

Llwybr Pedwar

Llwybr Cylchol Grangetown

Mae'r daith gylchol yma'n dechrau wrth yr Hwb yn Grangetown, ac yn dilyn Llwybr Taf a Llwybr Bae Caerdydd, ar hyd Afon Taf. Mae digonedd o barciau a gerddi ar hyd y daith. Byddwch yn profi golygfeydd syfrdanol ar draws Bae Caerdydd, cyn dychwelyd ar hyd rhan fer o Afon Elái a heibio i Farina Caerdydd a Chanolfan Dŵr Gwyn Rhngwladol Caerdydd. Gallech wyo oddi a y llwybr i Barc Grangemoor ar y ffordd yn ôl. Roedd y parc yn arfer bod yn safle tirlenwi, ond mae wedi cael ei adfywio a'i droi'n bart! Cewch olygfeydd 360-gradd o ben y bryn, ac mae llawer i'w weld!

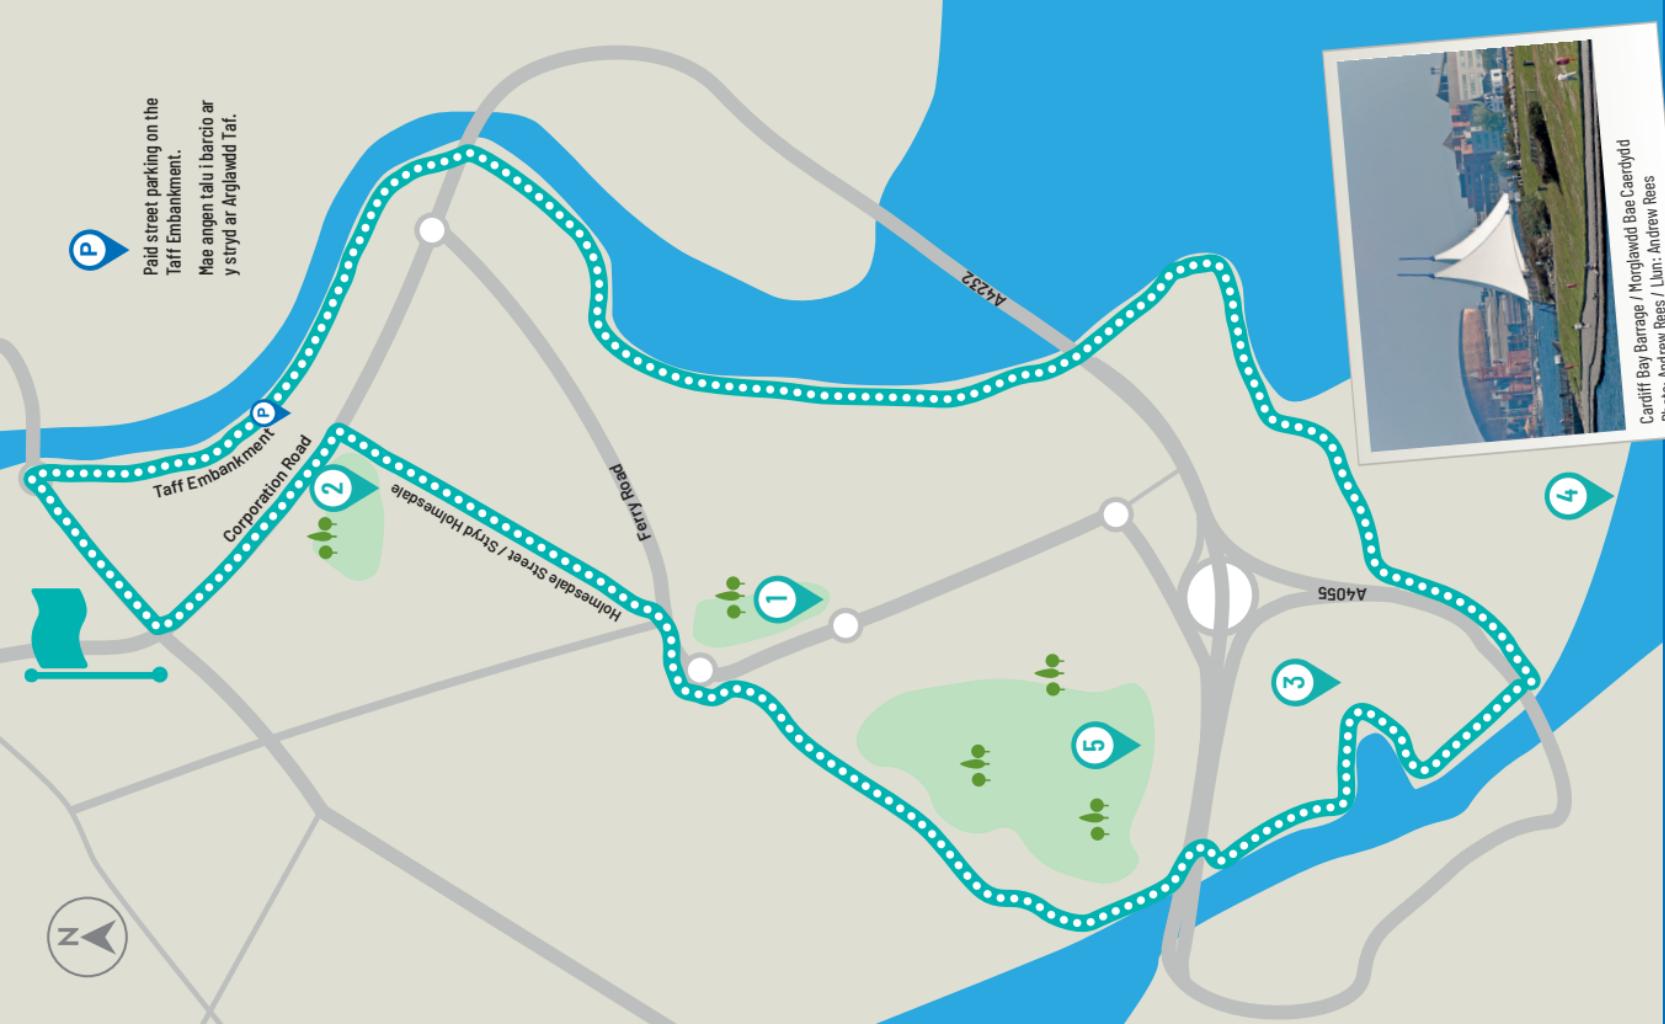

Roedd y Bae yn arfer bod yn wahanol iawn. Bae Teigr oedd yr hen enw ar Fae Caerdydd, lle byddai llongau'n allforio glo Cymru ledled y byd. Roedd yn arfer bod yn ardal ag aber agored a fyddai'n cael ei golchi gan y llanw ddwywaith y dydd, ond cafodd ei thrawsnewid yn llyn dŵr croyw ar ôl i'r morglawdd gael ei adeiladu ym 1999. Look out for Cardiff Bay Wetlands Reserve, for a chance to see all sorts of wildlife with views across Cardiff Bay. Once you reach the east side of Cardiff Bay, you'll join up with the Wales Coast Path. You will pass through the main hub of Cardiff Bay where there is so much to see, including the Millennium Centre, Norwegian Church, iconic Pierhead building and The Senedd building. Perhaps make a day of it and explore the bay before stopping for lunch on the barrage at the RSPB café. You will link up with the Ely River after passing Cardiff Marina and follow the river to Grangemoor park before heading back to Grangetown.

Walk Six

Cardiff Bay Circular Walk

This circular walk begins at Grangetown train station, where the route then follows the Taff Trail and Cardiff Bay Trail, along the River Taff. Once you cross the Ely River, you'll join up with the Wales Coast Path which will lead you over Cardiff Bay Barrage. The barrage was one of the biggest engineering projects in Europe in the 1990's. Look out for the large sluice gates, each one of which can release over a quarter of a million litres of water per second. Check out the fish pass too, especially if it is low water: this vital structure enables salmon and sea trout to swim upstream to their home river. For more information visit: www.cardiffharbour.com/barrage-story.

In addition to the spectacular views of Cardiff Bay, you'll get to explore a variety of parks and gardens on your journey through the city. Once you reach Atlantic Wharf, you'll come off the Wales Coast Path and head into the heart of Cardiff city centre. You'll then enjoy a short riverside walk of the upper River Taff before crossing over to Riverside. The route will lead you back to the Ely River, before returning back to Grangetown train station.

Castleland Circular Walk

This circular walk begins at Castleland Community Centre but can be accessed from either Barry or Barry Island train station, it forms part of the Wales Coast Path and Vale Trail. Once exiting the town centre of Barry, and briefly passing Barry Waterfront, you'll arrive onto Barry Island. Did you know that Barry Island used to actually be an island, disconnected from the mainland by the river?

You'll have access to three beautiful beaches; Whitmore Bay, Jackson's Bay and Barry Harbour, with views across the Severn Estuary to the Somerset coastline (on a clear day). There are lots of attractions to visit including Maslin Park, Barry pleasure park and the famous Marco's Café at Whitmore Bay, where the TV sitcom Gavin and Stacey was set. Check out the rocks at Friar's Point, where odd rock structures inform us that there is 135 million years of earth history missing and provide clues to the ancient marine and lake environments of this site!

Ar ôl gadael canol tref y Barri, a mynd heibio i Lannau'r Barri, fe gyraeddwch Ynys y Barri. Wyddoch chi bod Ynys y Barri yn arfer bod yn ynys go iawn, wedi'i gwahanu oddi wrth y tir mawr gan yr afon? Bydd gennych fynediad at dri thraeth hardd; Bae Whitmore, Bae Jackson a Harbwr y Barri, gyda golygfeydd ar draws Aber Hafren i arfordir Gwlad yr Haf (ar ddiwrnod clir). Mae llawer o atyniadau i ymweld â nhw, gan gynnwys Parc Maslin, parc pleser y Barri, a chaffi enwog Marco's ym Mae Whitmore, lle roedd rhan o raglen deledu 'Gavin and Stacey' wedi'i gosod.

Gallwch archwilio'r creigiau wrth Drwyn y Brodyr, lle mae strwythurau rhyfedd y creigiau yn dangos i ni bod 135 miliwn o flynyddoedd o hanes y ddear ar goll, ac yn rhoi cliwiau am amgylchedd môr a llyn hynafol y safle!

This circular walk begins at Barry train station, with some sections following the Wales Coast Path and Vale Trail. Along the way you'll be able to take in the stunning views of the Severn Estuary along the South Wales coastline, before heading inland to enjoy the picturesque parks and gardens of the Vale of Glamorgan. In addition, there are many historic landmarks that can be visited on the way, such as the railway viaduct found at Porthkerry Country Park, Barry Castle, The Bulwarks (the site of a large Iron Age settlement) or the remains of the Roman Villa near the Knap! Great for a challenge, the terrain is mainly flat but there is a steep flight of steps, known as Golden Stairs at Porthkerry!

	Barry train station		Paved and soft ground. This route has a low/medium chance of being wet and muddy.
	4.45miles/7.16km		Mostly leisurely but with steep parts

Llwybr Cylchol Ynys y Barri

Mae'r daith gylchol yma'n dechrau yng ngorsaf drenau'r Barri, gyda rhannau yn dilyn Llwybr Arfordir Cymru a Llwybr y Fro. Ar y ffordd, fe welwch olygfeydd syfrdanol o Aber Hafren ar hyd arfordir deheul Cymru, cyn mynd oddi wrth y môr tua Bro Morgannwg i weld ei pharciau a'i gerddi hardd. Yn ogystal, mae llawer o dirnodau hanesyddol y gallwch ymhweld â nhw ar y daith, fel traphont y rheilffordd sydd ym Mharc Gwledig Porthceri, Castell y Barri, y Bulwarks (safle anheddiad mawr o'r Oes Haearn) neu olion Fila Rufeinig yn agos at y Cnap! Mae'n her wych - mae'r tir yn wastad ar y cyfan, ond mae yna risiau serth, o'r enw'r Grisiau Aur ym Mhorthceri!

	Gorsaf Drenau'r Barri		Tir meddal a phalmantog. Mae gan y llwybr yma siawns isel/canolig o fod yn wlyb a.
